Why Should We Mark Storm Drains?

Nonpoint Source Pollution is pollution that cannot be traced to a specific point, because it comes from many individuals. We all contribute! Rainwater washes pollutants found in the soil, streets, and driveways into the storm drains. Almetek Industries understands the magnitude of this problem and has created markers that will allow you to notify your community of the hazards related to dumping waste down storm drains.

The general public tends to believe that the water, which runs down the drains on their street, goes to a waste treatment plant that cleans it up before sending it on to the rivers, streams and wetlands in the area. They need to be notified that everything that runs down those drains goes directly into the local waters; the same waters their kids play in, their pets swim in, and their neighbors fish in. By placing an Almetek Marker on every storm drain in town, you are helping to educate your citizens. Storm Drains are not an outdoor garbage disposal, they are a path to our water supply.

The 3-D embossed storm drain markers from Almetek Industries, Inc. are made of durable, long-lasting stainless steel. Through the use of high-tech, proprietary techniques, we have been able to create a marker that will adhere to any surface and is guaranteed to last up to 30 years. That's 30 years of community awareness! The sand blasted backside and turned down edges provide an excellent adhesion point that prevents displacement and theft. Installation is quick and easy, so that anyone, including young volunteers, can install them. If you're looking for easy way to keep your waters clean, perhaps these markers will help.
